No	Question	Answer
1	Since our company normally do not disclose name of all clients, are we therefore obliged disclose the names(for procurement purposes and eligibility critirium)?	According to the template for application Form, you have to indicate the name of Client for procurement purposes and eligibility criteria.
2	Since our company normally do not clients project values, are we therefore obliged disclose these values (for procurement purposes and eligibility critirium)?Can we put round numbers/approximate numbers?	According to the template for Application Form, you have to indicate the correct value (no round value) of the project value and the proportion carried out by candidate for procurement purposes and eligibility criteria.
3	This is highly important for us – as our Offices are registered as legal entities in member states of European Union. For legal purposes does it make any difference which office will be applied as candidate since our experts are located not only in candidate country	It is your decision to indicate the legal entity location with an indication of the current list of enterprises in the same group.
